

From: dwaugh@u.washington.edu [mailto:dwaugh@u.washington.edu]

Author's Subject: icons in British Museum

Date Written: Sat, 13 Sep 2008 17:08:19 +0100

Date Posted: Sun, 13 Sep 2008 12:08:19 -0400

<<http://h-net.msu.edu/cgi-bin/logbrowse.pl?trx=vx&list=h-earlyslavic&month=0809&week=b&msg=84RgFKAcYKgdYvsbSuAdTQ&user=&pw=>>

Subject: icons in British Museum

For those who have not yet stumbled across this (as I just did), note the very nice on-line catalogue of icons in the British Museum, which has the largest public collection of them in Britain (some 100 items). Enlarge-able, quality images, descriptive text, essays...

Yury Bobrov; ed. by Christ Entwistle, A catalogue of the Russian icons in the British Museum, July 2008.

http://www.britishmuseum.org/research/online_research_catalogues/russian_icons/catalogue_of_russian_icons.aspx