

Learning about Social Psychology on the Web

Go to the Social Psychology Network webpage <http://www.socialpsychology.org/>, learn more about a topic in the field of social psychology, and write a brief (one page) summary and reflection paper about what you learned. The website has a lot of information, so you might begin by visiting this page: <http://www.socialpsychology.org/social.htm>. There are lots of options here for different links to sites you can visit to learn more.