A Hannah Family of West Virginia

A Hannah Family of West Virginia

We wish to thank all who have helped us compile this book. Several of the family have helped with their computer expertise, editing skills and above all encouragement. Our son, Thomas, especially deserves acknowledgment for his many hours spent editing and lending his special skill with words and organization; and our son, Joseph, for keeping our computers productive.

In spite of all your help we take full responsibility for all mistakes. Please send written corrections in case we have a later printing.
