

What is the Opponents List?

For part 2 of the Final Report on Legislative Accomplishments, each student assumes the role of an opposition researcher whose job it is to identify things that a designated senator said or did that will hurt their reelection chances.

Find your name on the list. The senator next to you on the list is the one you will be monitoring throughout the legislative session.

Important! You are an opposition researcher. You are NOT an opposing candidate and this role should not impact how you behave in your own senator role.

If this is still unclear, take a look at the final report assignment or let us know.

If the person next to you is missing in action, let us know and we will reassign you.
