

Defining Horror

- What sort of narrative, character types, setting, themes, and stylistic elements must a film have to be described as "horror"?
- Does horror have a unique effect upon audiences? Is the effect physical, emotional, psychological?
- Does horror respond to political, social, economic, or other cultural contexts? Does it address our notions of gender, sexuality, or identity?