

BIO A 101: Human Biological Diversity

Autumn 2006
MTWThF 1:30 – 2:20
Savery 239

Instructor:
Patricia Ann Kramer, PE PhD
Department of Anthropology
University of Washington

Course Description:

Exploration of human biological variation, including skin color, body form, blood groups, genetics, and reproductive strategies.

Introduction to the theory of evolution through natural selection.

