

Reading Reflection 2

Let's again reflect on some "meta" ideas now that we've finished the second exam. Choose one of the readings below in 200 to 300 words 1) summarize the authors main point(s) and 2) connect the main points with experiences (or lack of experiences) in your own life.

1. Read "Helping Students Fail Productively" by Nathan Warnberg: <https://www.mathvalues.org/masterblog/helping-students-fail-productively>
2. Read "Bad at Math Is a Lie" by Matt Waite available at <https://horizonsaftermath.blogspot.com/2014/09/bad-at-math-is-lie.html>
3. Read "Sometimes I feel like a logarithm" by Kate Ertmann at <https://katelovesmath.com/2023/01/02/sometimes-i-feel-like-a-logarithm/>