Part 1: Graphically represent the history of rhetoric that we have read about and discussed in class. This can take whichever form is most useful to you. You might draw a chronology organizing works and authors into movements (Platonic, Aristotelian, Isocratean). You might draw a timeline. You can use this simply to organize the information in a manner that can help you best remember it. All I ask is that it be largely comprehensive and address all the major areas that we have talked about. This is meant as a study guide to help you prepare for the final exam.

Part 2: Think back on your first homework where you defined rhetoric. Do you still agree with that definition? Why or why not? Which theorist do you side with most in the history of rhetoric?