COURSE OBJECTIVES

- 3. To teach fundamental rhetorical techniques to enable students to develop professional practical, real-world writing and oral communication skills
- 4. To provide opportunities to develop group communication and leadership skills

CLASS PARTICIPATION

Since an important dimension to this class is using and practicing with the tools you will be taught, I will be calling on each of you randomly to give you the opportunity to think on your feet--or in your seat, as the case may be. In order to participate effectively, you will have to integrate the information presented to you in the lectures, the packet, and the text as we go along. You will not do well in this class if you wait until the midterm to learn this material.

GRADING

Assignments are due by the end of your class or you will lose 5. You will also lose 5 points for each additional day I don't receive it. I will accept an email as proof of meeting the deadline, but you must bring a hard copy to class or to my office as soon as you can.

Here's how your grade will be calculated:

- Five quizzes (10 points each) on the course readings and coursepak material.
- Three letter/memo assignments: the first (10 points), the second (15 points), and the third (75 points).
- Midterm in two parts: an in-class short-answer test (100 points) & a take-home component (100 points)
- Group oral -- a business-plan pitch presentation to potential investors (150 points).
- Extra-credit opportunities
- My evaluation of your effort, class participation, and improvement could possibly bounce your final grade up or down a point

When you know all your scores, add them up and divide by 5 to render a number on a 100-point scale. That number translates into your grade according to the following table:

Introduction/Problem Solving

This class will focus on the course objectives and the approach that I take toward teaching practical communications skills appropriate for the workplace. We'll introduce the four problem-solving steps appropriate for any problem solving challenge, adapted here for CMU challenges, and start discussion of Heinrich's book on rhetorical technique. We'll also talk about how to tell a joke.

2 3/31 Pronouns, Plurals More on Basic Rhetorical Technique Situation Analysis

PTO 1: Woe Is I—Focus more on this chapter.2: Plurals before Swine—Focus less on this chapter. Know what's in it for future reference

JH 1: Open Your Eyes—What is rhetorical technique? Concession, amplification, and the commonplace

2: Set Your Goals—Do you want to win or win over, fight or argue?

Coursepak: Analysis: pp. 1-7.

This class will take a look at O'Conner's discussion of common problems writers have with pronouns and pluralizing. We will examine Heinrich's distinction between fighting vs. arguing or the goal to win over than simply to win. We'll then work with material in the coursepak to understand better what we mean by Situation Analysis: defining the problem, defining the goals, and defining the audience.

Coursepak: Composition and Organization pp. 8-13

After looking at usage issues with regard to possession and punctuation, we'll quickly define what we mean by forensic, demonstrative, and deliberative, rhetorical forms. And we'll lay out the preliminaries regarding Logos, Pathos, and Ethos. We'll start discussing the basic elements that compose Strategy.

We'll do a little more on common usage mistakes, and then go deeper into the role of pathos in rhetoric, and then on to the last two of the problem-solving steps—execution and evaluation. If the strategy stage is about the raw meat and the skeleton of your message, Execution is about dressing it up so it can go out in public. We'll focus on effective paragraphs and formats, vigorous sentence style, and working quickly and efficiently.
