COURSE OBJECTIVES

To provide information, tools, drills, and challenges that will help students to discover and know what they want to say, to say what then mean, and to say it memorably. Students will develop these skills in order to improve their performance capability in written communications, oral presentations, and interpersonal and group communications.

CLASS PARTICIPATION

Since an important dimension to this class is using and practicing with the tools you will be taught, I will be calling on students randomly to give them the opportunity to think on their feet-- or in their seat, as the case may be. In order to participate effectively, you will have to integrate the information presented to you in the lectures, the packet, and the readings as we go along. You will not do well in this class if you wait until the midterm to learn this material.

GRADING

Assignments are due by the end of class or students will lose 5 points. They will also lose 5 points for each additional day I don't receive it. I will accept an email as proof of meeting the deadline, but you must bring a hard copy to class or to my office as soon as you can. Assignments sent as emails will not be graded. I will only grade the hard copies delivered to me by students.

Here's how your grade will be calculated:

- Four quizzes (10 points each)
- Three writing assignments: the first (15 points), the second (20 points), and the third (75 points).
- Midterm in two parts: an in-class short-answer test (100 points) & a take-home component (100 points)
- Group oral -- a business-plan pitch presentation to potential investors (150 points).
- Extra-credit opportunities
- My evaluation of your effort, class participation, and improvement could possibly bounce your final grade up or down a point

When you know all your scores, add them up and divide by 5 to render a number on a 100-point scale. That number translates into your grade according to the following table:

Grade Scale

98.5	4.0
97	3.9
