Academic Integrity

- Papers and tests are to be original work. It is a breach of academic honesty to hand in work that is not your own or to use parts of someone else's work. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to: copying of phrases, sentences, or paragraphs without proper citation, paraphrasing another person's ideas or words without proper attribution, replicating the overall presentation structure from another source. Sources include textbooks, journal articles, newspaper articles, published or unpublished text, the World Wide Web (e.g., Wikipedia), verbal communication, paper writing "services" or any other source or person, regardless of whether you know him/her. Any form of plagiarism is grounds for failure in the class and removal from the University.
- A lack of familiarity with the rules of plagiarism or the student conduct code in no way constitutes an excuse for acts of misconduct. Knowledge of these rules is your responsibility. A clear definition of plagiarism and other types of academic misconduct is provided at <http://depts.washington.edu/grading/issue1/honesty.htm#misconduct> . For detailed information about other forms of academic misconduct and information about disciplinary sanctions for academic misconduct read the University's Student Conduct Code <http://apps.leg.wa.gov/WAC/default.aspx?cite=478-120>.
